

Stories of Support

We joined the 0-5 Parent Group when our daughter was 6 weeks old, and it was so amazing to meet with other parents going through the same things we were and are. We have learned so much, met wonderful people and been able to share our joys with those that truly understand. I don't know what we would have done without the support we have gotten from DSACK.

DSACK has been an excellent resource for our family. Without their support, I would not have learned about the various social programs that are available. Being a member of the 0-5 Parent group has allowed me to meet so many wonderful people going through many of the same things we are. During the tough times, there is always someone who lends a caring ear and offers to help. It is comforting to know that there are those that have been on this path before us who can give guidance along the way.

Each family benefits from the fellowship and the opportunity to celebrate our children through shameless bragging. DSACK truly celebrates that all God's children are "fearfully and wonderfully made." (Psalm 139:14)

We are a part of DSACK because there is no other group where the experiences of our family and the needs of our child are so well understood. We have been inspired and challenged by the accomplishments of older children and young adults with Down syndrome in the community. We've been introduced to professionals who have not only the necessary knowledge, but a heart for the needs of our son. There is a certain sense of family that makes our two hour drive to get there worth it.

One of the things that have been most helpful to our family in responding to the unique challenges of being a parent of a child with Down syndrome is joining the DSACK New Parent Group. Our monthly meetings are very casual, and we usually have a speaker providing helpful information on topics requested by parents. It has been very helpful to share experiences and receive support from parents who are traveling the very same road.
